

Third Party Software Attributions, Copyrights, Licenses and Disclosure

Qlik® DataMarket

Certain third party data components are integrated and/or redistributed with the Qlik DataMarket data as a service offering. Such third-party components include terms and conditions, such as attribution and disclaimers (collectively "Third Party Disclosures") for which disclosure is required by their respective owners. This document sets forth such Third Party Disclosures for Qlik Data Market software as of the date set forth below. This Third Party Disclosure is also available on the Qlik web page located at <http://www.qlik.com/license-terms>. NEITHER QLIKTECH INTERNATIONAL AB NOR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES (COLLECTIVELY, "QLIK") MAKES ANY REPRESENTATION, WARRANTY OR OTHER COMMITMENT REGARDING SUCH THIRD PARTY COMPONENTS.

Eurostat

- Eurostat Data is © European Union, 1995-2015
- Except for restricted data listed below, Eurostat Data can be reused without any payment or written licence provided that: (1) the source is indicated as Eurostat; and (2) when re-use involves modifications to the data or text, such modifications must be stated clearly to the end user of the information.
- The following Eurostat data and documents may not be reused for commercial purposes:
 - a. Data identified as belonging to sources other than Eurostat.
 - b. Publications or documents where the copyright belongs partly or wholly to other organizations, for example concerning co-publications between Eurostat and other publishers.
 - c. Data on countries other than:
 - Member States of the European Union (EU)
 - Member States of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA)
 - official EU acceding and candidate countries.Examples are data on the United States of America, Japan or China. Often, such data are included in Eurostat data tables. In such cases, a re-user would need to eliminate such data from the tables before reusing them commercially.
 - d. Trade data originating from Liechtenstein and Switzerland (as declaring countries), from 1995 onwards, and concerning the following commodity classifications: HS, SITC, BEC, NSTR and national commodity classifications.
 - e. Trade data originating from Austria (as a declaring country) for a level of detail of the Combined Nomenclature of 8 digits; it is not allowed to sell export/import data declared by Austria (concerning the above named commodity classifications), but it is allowed to sell Austrian export/import data declared by another EU Member State.

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

- FRED data services are generally available for personal use. Certain FRED data series are owned by third parties. Before using data owned by third parties for anything other than your own personal use, you must contact the data owner to obtain permission. The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis cannot give you such permission, and making the data series available through FRED does not constitute such permission. Copyrighted series include the word "copyright" and the copyright symbol in their title.
- The Qlik DataMarket offering uses the FRED® API is not endorsed or certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.
- You may not do any of the following in connection with your use of the FRED data series:
 - a. Use "FRED®" or "ALFRED®" or "Federal Reserve Bank" or any variation thereof in the hostname of your application, i.e. FRED.mydomain.com.
 - b. Use the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis logo or any trademark, service mark, trade name or any other mark of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. Remove, obscure, or alter any proprietary rights notices (including copyright and trademark notices) that may be affixed to any FRED data.
 - c. State or in any way imply that your application, web site or product is endorsed, recommended or favored by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.
- You are required to comply with all export laws and restrictions and regulations of the Department of Commerce, the United States Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"), or other United States or foreign agency or authority, and you shall not export, or allow the export or re-export of the FRED data in violation of any such restrictions, laws or regulations.

National Cancer Institute

- All public domain data from the National Cancer Institute (NCI) website, www.cancer.gov is not subject to copyright restrictions. No special permission is required to use or reproduce public domain material.
- All material and data reproduced from NCI should acknowledge NCI as the originator and the NCI website, www.cancer.gov, as the source. The source can be cited as: The website of the National Cancer Institute (<http://www.cancer.gov>).
- You cannot use the registered trademark logos for NCI, NIH, Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), or PDQ in your materials or applications, including any translations.
- NCI's logo is trademarked and cannot be used without consent. Questions regarding use of the NCI logo should be directed to NCI's Office of Cancer Content at cancergovstaff@mail.nih.gov.
- PDQ is a registered trademark and its use requires a licensing agreement with NCI. Information about licensing PDQ is available from NCI's Office of Cancer Content at the following URL: <http://www.cancer.gov/licensing>.
- Artwork, graphics, and text developed for NCI by private-sector designers, photographers, and writers under contract to the federal government is owned by the originators. Permissions, including credit line and/or fees for use of privately owned material, must be negotiated directly with the private-sector contractor, independent of the government.

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration

- You may not claim any National Weather Service (NWS) data as your own, use any NWS data in a way that implies an endorsement or affiliation with NOAA/NWS or modify the content of the data and then present it as official government material. You also cannot present information of your own in a way that makes it appear to be official NOAA/NWS information.
- Use of the NWS name ("National Weather Service") and/or visual identifier are protected under trademark law and may not be used without permission from the NWS. Permission may be requested at <http://www.weather.gov/logorequest>. Permission is not required to display unaltered NWS products which include the NWS name or NWS/NOAA visual identifier as part of the original product, provided that neither the name nor visual identifier may be used in a manner that implies an endorsement or affiliation with NOAA/NWS.
- The user assumes the entire risk related to its use of NWS information. NWS provides such information "as is," and NWS disclaims any and all warranties, whether express or implied, including (without limitation) any implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose. In no event will NWS be liable to you or to any third party for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special or exemplary damages or lost profit resulting from any use or misuse of this data.
- As required by 17 U.S.C. § 403, third parties producing copyrighted works consisting predominantly of the material appearing in NWS Web pages must provide notice with such work(s) identifying the NWS material incorporated and stating that such material is not subject to copyright protection.
- Use of Third-Party Data and Products including in NWS data:
 - Third-party information and imagery are used under license by the individual third-party provider. This third-party information may contain trade names, trademarks, service marks, logos, domain names, and other distinctive brand features to identify the source of the information. This does not imply an endorsement of the third-party data/products or their provider by NOAA/National Weather Service. Please contact the third-party provider for information on your rights to further use these data/products.
 - Google Earth™/Google Maps™/Esri ArcGIS Online. Google Maps and Google Earth map information and photographic imagery are used under license by Google. Esri ArcGIS Online map information and photographic imagery are used under license by Esri. NOAA/National Weather Service data presented using Google Earth, Google Maps, or Esri ArcGIS Online map services are in the public domain and are also made available in open geospatial standard formats such as KML/KMZ (Google) and shapefile (Esri) among other common formats from NOAA/NWS websites. The map information and photographic imagery contain trade names, trademarks, service marks, logos, domain names, and other distinctive brand features. This does not imply an endorsement of Google, Google Earth, Google Maps, or Esri ArcGIS Online mapping products or services by NOAA/National Weather Service. Under the terms of the license, you are permitted to copy or use the Google Earth, Google Maps and/or the Esri ArcGIS Online images on your site so long as the Google Earth, Google Maps and/or Esri trade names, trademarks, service marks, logos, domain names, and other distinctive brand features are not deleted or in any manner altered.

U.S Census Bureau

- Copyright protection is not available for any work of the United States Government (Title 17 U.S.C., Section 105). You may reproduce census materials in your materials and applications, provided that you cite the U.S. Census Bureau as the source.
- The following statistical compendia volumes contain copyrighted material: Statistical Abstract of the United States, City and County Data Book, State and Metropolitan Area Data Book, and USA Counties. In the event you wish to publish these data or tables, you should contact the cited company or agency for permission.

Weather Source LLC

- All rights to the Weather Source data remain with Weather Source. Redistribution of the Weather Source data to third parties outside of QlikView® and Qlik® Sense is not authorized. Licensees of QlikView and Qlik Sense may export Weather Source data to excel/pdf/word formats solely for their internal use only.
- You must attribute Weather Source data you display on a public website, public mobile application or in any other public forum.

World Bank:

- By using the World Bank Datasets, you agree to provide attribution to The World Bank and its content providers in the following format: The World Bank: Dataset name: Data source (if known).
- You may make non-commercial use of the Datasets, but you may not make any commercial use, including without limitation reselling them, charging to access them, charging to redistribute them, or charging for derivative works based on them. The foregoing license is conditioned upon your providing proper attribution to The World Bank and its content providers in the following format: "The World Bank: The World Bank authorizes the use of this material subject to the terms and You may not publicly represent or imply that The World Bank is participating in, or has sponsored, approved or endorsed the manner or purpose of your use or reproduction of the Datasets.
- You may not use any trade-mark, official mark, official emblem or logo of The World Bank, or any of its other means of promotion or publicity, without The World Bank's prior written consent nor in any event to represent or imply an association or affiliation with The World Bank.
- The World Bank shall not be responsible or liable for the accuracy, usefulness or availability of any data in the Datasets.
- Additional conditions on its website, <http://www.worldbank.org/terms>.
- Terms for Restricted Data:
 - a. WITS UN COMTRADE. United Nations COMTRADE contains copyrighted material and/or other proprietary information. The materials contained on or otherwise made available to you on United Nations COMTRADE may be copyrighted by the United Nations and are protected by copyright laws and regulations worldwide. Except as may otherwise be expressly permitted by applicable law, any copying, automated browsing or downloading, redistribution, publication, or commercial exploitation of any material contained on or otherwise made available to you from United Nations COMTRADE is strictly prohibited without the prior written permission of the United Nations. Any requests for permission to reproduce or otherwise use any material contained on or otherwise made available to you on United Nations COMTRADE should be directed to The Director of the United Nations Statistics Division: comtrade@un.org. You may not alter or remove any copyright symbol or other identification or any information concerning authorship of any of the materials contained on or otherwise made available to you from United Nations COMTRADE.
 - b. WTO IDB/CTS. Permission to download information in part or in full from this database is granted for personal or classroom use, without fee and without formal request. Full citation must appear on any information published from this database. Data downloaded from this database in part or in full may not be distributed for profit or commercial advantage. Users expressly acknowledge and agree that any and all use of this information are at their sole risk. Neither the WTO nor any of its staff warrants that access to and use of these data will be free from interruptions or free from errors; nor does it make any warranty as to the accuracy and reliability of results that may be obtained from use of these data.
 - c. Road density (km of road per 100 sq. km of land area), Roads, goods transported (million ton-km), Roads, paved (% of total roads), Roads, passengers carried (million passenger-km), Roads, total network (km), Motor vehicles (per 1,000 people), Passenger cars (per 1,000 people), Vehicles (per km of road). Reproduction of the foregoing is strictly prohibited. Extracts must be quoted, after agreement with IRF Geneva, providing the source as "IRF Geneva, World Road Statistics WRS".
 - d. BOOST Public Expenditure Database for the following countries/states: Armenia, Burundi, Guatemala, Kiribati, Mexico, Minas Gerais (Brazil), Paraguay, Peru, Poland, Rio Grande do Sul (Brazil), Seychelles, Solomon Islands, and Togo. Commercial use of the foregoing datasets is prohibited. Dissemination must cite "BOOST Public Expenditure Database, World Bank Group” and must state that commercial use of the data is prohibited.

Xignite, Inc.

- All rights to the Xignite data remain with Xignite. Redistribution of the Xignite data to third parties outside of QlikView and Qlik Sense is not authorized. Licensees of QlikView and Qlik Sense may export Xignite data to excel/pdf/word formats solely for their internal use only.
- You must attribute the Xignite Data you display on a public website, public mobile application or in any other public forum. Public web pages or mobile applications that display the Data must provide attribution using a currently approved method of attribution as defined on <https://www.xignite.com/Support/Attribution.aspx>, or specifically with the html code (if applicable) that follows: `Market Data` by Xignite.