Our Consulting Services

At the beginning of every engagement, our Qlik consultants will outline the best approach — from our deep portfolio of business and technical services, as well as solutions and project packages — to meet your unique business needs. We are here to help you maximize the value of Qlik wherever you deploy analytics: on-premise, in the cloud, or as a hybrid combination of both. We work with you to choose the right services to meet your specific needs, including working side by side with your own team.

Because all of our engagements are supported by our Qlik Project Methodology, our project managers work in partnership with you to plan and manage people, processes, and technologies involved in your implementations. Our objectives are the same as yours — meeting goals; keeping people and tasks on track; ensuring fast, effective communications; and controlling risks — so you get faster answers, more insights, and better outcomes from analytics.
